

Book Launch - Line Drawing by Ross Wilson

7pm at Fire Station Creative on Thursday the 17th of January

Ross will be reading from his book, which is on sale for £7.99, and framed prints of the cover art will be on display also.

Here are some reviews:

'Humour, tenderness and political conscience that neither preaches nor hides behind a bushel. On top of raw power, there is also technique. Surprising imagery is commonplace in Wilson's poetry.' - Christie Williamson

'A unique voice, and a very important one, on the contemporary Scottish poetry scene.'
- Magi Gibson
